

CURRICULUM VITAE

Education

B.A./LL.B (Hons) (Melb) G.D.L.P. (ANU) LL.M (Syd)

Admissions

Admitted as a Legal Practitioner of the Supreme Court of the Australian Capital Territory June 2001.

Admitted as a Barrister and Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Victoria June 2002.

Signed the Roll of Counsel of the Victorian Bar May 2003.

Publications

Hamish Redd, 'Accessorial liability for breach of a fiduciary duty: an update', (2004) 78(4) Law Institute Journal, 62.

Hamish Redd, 'Trust Company of Australia v Daulizio [2003] VSC 358 – Case Note', (2004) 33 Wills & Probate Bulletin 7.

Hamish Redd, 'Dementia and Will-Making' (2003) 32 Wills & Probate Bulletin 1.

Alice E.S. Tay and Hamish Redd, 'China: Trade, Law and Human Rights' (2002) 7 International Trade and Business Law Annual, 301-324.

Alice E.S. Tay and Hamish Redd, 'China: Trade, Law and Human Rights' in Cass, Williams, Barker (eds), China and the World Trading System (2003), 156.

Conference Papers

Hamish Redd, 'Regulated Superannuation Funds and Death Benefits: An Introduction for Wills and Probate Lawyers' presented at the 'Law Institute of Victoria Wills and Estate Conference 2003', 22 October 2003, Hotel Sofitel, Melbourne.

Alice E.S. Tay and Hamish Redd 'China: Trade, Law and Human Rights' presented at the 'China and the WTO' Conference, March 16-17 2001, Australian National University, Canberra.

Hamish Redd, 'The Impact of the Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth) on Trustees of Regulated Superannuation Funds' presented at the 'Superannuation Law 2004' Conference, 2 September 2004, Grand Hyatt Hotel, Melbourne.

Practise and Jursidiction

Hamish has appeared in the Victorian Magistrates', County and Supreme Courts as well as the Federal Magistrates' Court and Federal Court.

Hamish has also appeared in the Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal and the Australian Industrial Relations Commission.

In addition to his appearance work, Hamish has advised on takeovers, superannuation, complex trust arrangements, equity and general commercial matters.

Hamish has also provided legal services pro bono in human rights matters.